COMMUNITY LEADERS TRAINING COURSE

Connecting People And Nature Project

As part of the 'Connecting People And Nature Project' (CPAN) we are offering a free 3-day Community Leaders' Training Course each year. Over the last two years we have delivered courses in Blackburn and East Lancashire, which included 2 days within the Forest of Bowland. These were a huge success, and we are now planning our third course to run in the Preston area for 2025. The community leaders' training course is part of the 3-year Connecting People And Nature Project which is a partnership involving The Ernest Cook Trust and the Forest of Bowland National Landscape which is funded through the National Lottery Heritage Fund. More information on the Connecting People And Nature Project can be found here:

About the Community Leaders' Training Course 2025:

The multiday training course will help people to develop skills and confidence to lead/engage people in their communities and take their sessions outdoors, plan and organise simple and engaging outdoor activities (not bushcraft activities), increase understanding of opportunities for people to get outdoors and connect with nature. Once upskilled, these Community Leaders will be supported to arrange and run outdoor sessions for their own groups, within the local landscape.

Therefore, we are currently looking for Community Leaders within Lancaster, Preston and surrounding towns, who already have a group they regularly engage with. You could be a paid member of staff or a volunteer. Ideally, we are looking for individuals who would like:

- Some more support and to gain skills about how to take their group outdoors.
- Would like to build confidence in engaging with the local community more.
- Would like to attain information about what local green spaces they could use and how to go about planning sessions in the outdoors.

What will you get from the course?

- Skills and confidence in engaging individuals and working with groups.
- Simple but engaging outdoor activities that you can use in your own groups (not covering Bushcraft, nor Outdoor Learning or Forest School aspects).
- Understanding benefits of the outdoors (for physical and mental health and wellbeing etc.) and how the outdoor environment can add value to the services they already provide.
- Develop skills and confidence in planning and organising sessions (and these potentially being outdoors).
- Increase local knowledge of opportunities for people to get outdoors and involved in the local landscape.

- The Health and Safety knowledge required for taking the community group outdoors (insurance, risk assessment and responsibility / liability implications in the context of leaders own policies etc.)
- Self-sustained peer network of the Community Leaders from the course, who share ideas, resources, and collaboration.
